CHAPTER 27 – EFFLUENT GUIDELINES AND STANDARDS

001 Regulations promulgated in this chapter prescribe effluent limitations guidelines for existing sources, standards of performance for new sources and pretreatment standards for new and existing sources. Point sources of discharges of pollutants are required to comply with these regulations, where applicable, and permits issued by the department will be conditioned upon compliance with the applicable effluent guidelines and standards.

002 Test procedures for analysis of pollutants. The conditions and requirements of 40 CFR part 136 pertaining to the Guidelines Establishing Test Procedures for the Analysis of Pollutants are hereby adopted and incorporated by this reference.

003 Criteria and standards for determining fundamentally different factors. The conditions and requirements of 40 CFR part 125, Subpart D pertaining to Criteria and Standards for Determining Fundamentally Different Factors is adopted and incorporated by this reference.

004 Thermal discharges and cooling water intake structures. All of 40 CFR part 125, Subparts H and I pertaining to criteria for determining alternative effluent limitations and requirements applicable to cooling water intake structures are adopted and incorporated by this reference.

005 Toxic pollutant effluent standards. All of 40 CFR part 129 pertaining to Toxic Pollutant Effluent Standards are adopted and incorporated by this reference.

006 pH effluent limitations under continuous monitoring.

006.01 Where a permittee continuously measures the pH of wastewater pursuant to a requirement or option in a NPDES permit issued pursuant to this Title, the permittee shall maintain the pH of such wastewater within the range set forth in the applicable effluent limitations guidelines, except excursions from the range are permitted subject to the following limitations:

006.01A The total time during which the pH values are outside the required range of pH values shall not exceed 7 hours and 26 minutes in any calendar month; and

006.01B No individual excursion from the range of pH values shall exceed 60 minutes.

006.02 The director may adjust the requirements set forth in this section with respect to the length of individual excursions from the range of pH values, if a different period of time is appropriate based upon the treatment system, plant configuration or other technical factors.

006.03 For purposes of this section, an excursion is an unintentional and temporary incident in which the pH value of discharge wastewater exceeds the range set forth in the applicable effluent limitations guidelines.
